

The Fair Congressional Districts for Ohio campaign is a bipartisan, citizen-led movement to end gerrymandering in Ohio. The effort was initiated by a nonpartisan coalition of good government groups led by the League of Women Voters of Ohio, Common Cause Ohio, and the Ohio Environmental Council.

Highlights of the Fair Districts proposal:

- In 2015, Ohio voters overwhelmingly approved Issue 1 to create the bipartisan Ohio Redistricting Commission to draw state legislative districts; our proposal adds Congressional districts too.
- Votes from both major parties are necessary to approve districts, not just the majority, requiring compromise.
- Bans gerrymandering, the practice of manipulating districts to favor or disfavor a political party or candidate.
- Keeps communities whole by minimizing the splitting of counties, municipalities, and townships – and no county may be split more than once.
- Requires representational fairness, meaning districts should correspond to the partisan preferences of voters.
- Must follow laws protecting minority voting rights and one person one vote, and requires districts to be contiguous and compact.
