

Fair districts = fair elections.

Congressional district lines have been rigged for partisan advantage for too long.

Gerrymandering, the manipulation of districts to unfairly influence elections, violates the will of the people. Gerrymandering leaves Ohioans with uncompetitive congressional races.

In 2016, every incumbent won—and by huge margins!

The average margin of victory for Ohio's 16 congressional races was 36.3 points. It's hard to hold members of Congress accountable in such "safe" districts. A safe seat means your elected official doesn't have to work to represent you and earn your vote.

Voters deserve fair and competitive elections.

It's time for bipartisan mapmaking and rules against gerrymandering! We fixed gerrymandering at the Statehouse—now it's time to do the same for Congress. Fair elections are good for us all!
